Ambig as a brand prides itself in supporting artists. We felt that we hadn't fully gotten behind any one artist in the past and wanted to change that. Rather than run a handful of tees that merely feature an artist's name we have decided to slow the process down and focus on individual artists, creating video content with them as well as working to create an art show/event.

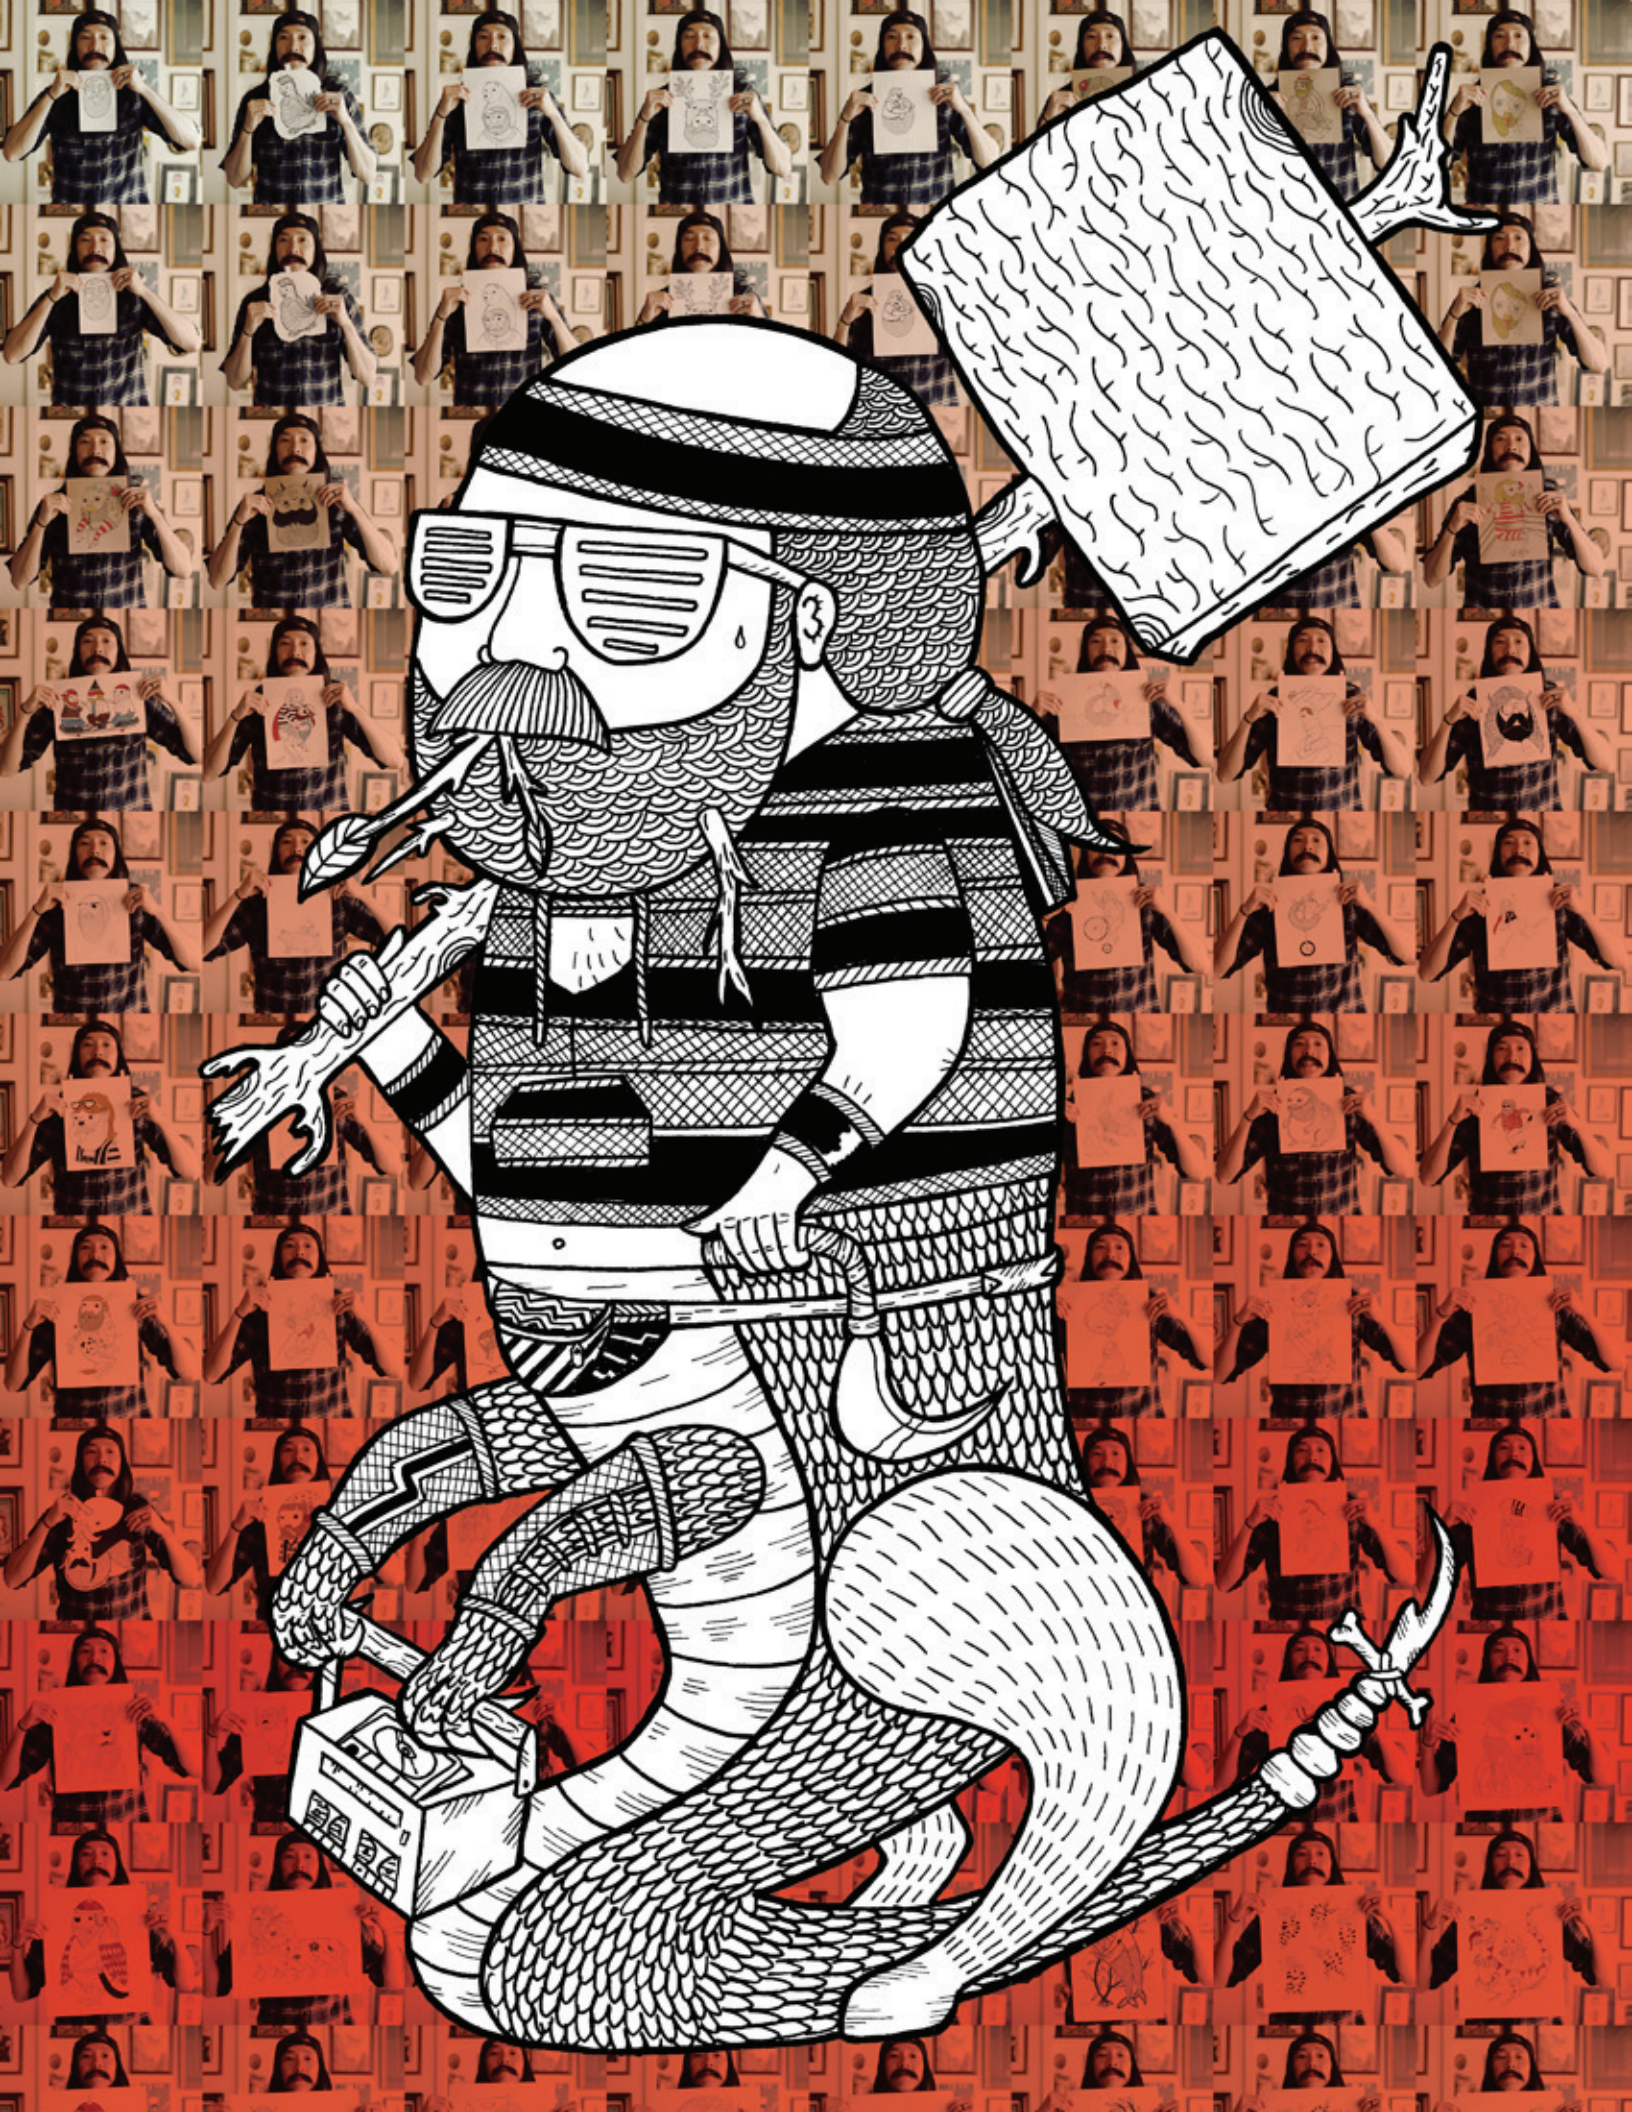

Our first Artist Series initiative features Los Angeles based artist Michael Hsiung. Having been a contributing artist for years and a friend to Ambig employees Michael was an ideal candidate/guinea pig. Ambig's artist series video #001 documents Michael's process and philosophy as well as pulling his art from ink and paper into the real world.

Green Fuz is a surf company from San Clemente, California. Making handmade surfboard bags for all types of wave sliding machines... longboards, funboards, mini simmons, shortboards, fishes, eggs, pills and so on. One of the Green Fuz owners works here at Ambig. In the spirit of supporting local made products and one of our own we were all for a board short collab.

The board shorts are made out of 100% poly mega-suede and designed after Green Fuz's own board bag designs. Hope ya dig!
